

Fact Sheet

Dedicating a Rock or Bench Seat at Bellbrae

The Bellbrae Cemetery offers a variety of settings and gravesite options as peaceful resting places for you or your loved one. Often families also look for alternative ways to commemorate their loved ones and identify a place where they can reflect and enjoy special memories. In some cases an individual may actually be buried or their ashes distributed elsewhere.

It is important to note, while the seat is dedicated, it always remains available for all visitors to use and enjoy.

A Rock or Bench Seat's dedication does not include burial or ashes interment rights.

Rock Seats:

Are located in our Eastern Section to complement its natural bush setting.

To acknowledge the dedication, a single bronze plaque (380 x 280mm) may be installed on the front of rock seat – subject to the prior approval of the Trust.

Bench Seats:

Are placed at key points throughout the grounds.

A single metal plaque may be installed – size & location subject to prior Trust approval.

Plaques:

All plaques must comply with relevant legislation and Australian Standards. They require:

- an application to be completed and approved
- payment of the relevant fee prior to installation

Temporary plaques made of non-lasting material will be removed after 6 months.

Purchase and installation costs remain the responsibility of the family or individual.

Our Secretary can assist you with the purchase process and advise of the related fees & documentation.
